

UCU is the largest union in further and higher education and is the most effective voice for people working in post-school education.

UCU brings together academics, lecturers, trainers, instructors, researchers, administrators, managers, computer staff, librarians and postgraduates from universities, colleges, prisons, adult education and training organisations

UCU campaigns and negotiates for progress on issues such as improving pay, implementing equality policies, protecting part time, fixed term and hourly-paid staff and much more

Our UCU branch/association committee represents UCU members locally and negotiates with management on local terms and conditions of all staff. Our local association/branch also advises and represents individual members on employment matters.

For more information and an application form see

(insert local website/email address and contact details)

Or download an application form at www.ucu.org.uk/join

AMICUS is primarily the union for technical, supervisory and trades staff in universities and scientific and technical staff in the medical world. It is very active in the Higher Education sector.

Amicus deals with problems at work and gives professional advice and support on all workplace issues. If you need legal support to defend your rights then AMICUS can provide help.

AMICUS:

- negotiates pay and terms and conditions of service
- represents members in grievance and disciplinary cases
- advises and represents members in annual re-grading reviews
- looks after members interests in all health and safety issues
- provides help and support on all workplace matters

For further details see

www.groups.ex.ac.uk/amicus/index.html

For an application form contact Margaret Grapes, School of Biosciences, Hatherly Laboratories. Ext 4678.

Email m.a.grapes@ex.ac.uk or your local workplace representative listed on the website. For information about Amicus in HE contact vera.titmus@amicustheunion.org.uk

UNISON is the trade union for all professional and support staff at University of Exeter. This includes:

- secretarial/clerical/finance staff
- administrative staff
- library staff
- IT support staff
- Counseling staff
- Sports assistants

UNISON works to improve pay, terms and conditions at national, regional and local level. UNISON is campaigning for;

- Equal pay for work of equal value
- Better pay and conditions
- An end to low pay
- Fair and equal treatment for part-time, term-time and temporary staff
- Access to training and career opportunities for all staff
- An end to discrimination in higher education

If you need legal support to defend your rights or your job, or to get help with compensation for an accident at work, UNISON can provide free legal assistance. UNISON also represents staff in grievance and disciplinary cases and at regarding reviews.

For further details see:

www.exeter.ac.uk/staff/support

For an application form telephone Charmain Hebbard 264835 or email: m.c.hebbard@exeter.ac.uk

I am interested in joining a union at University of Exeter
Please send me further details.

Name:

Department:

Union:

- UCU
- Amicus
- Unison
- T&G

(If you are unsure of which union to join, please indicate your position and grade and send it to any union.)

The Transport & General Workers Union is the union for all manual grades and management staff in hospitality services.

- Porters
- Cleaners
- Catering staff
- Gardeners
- Domestic staff
- Managerial staff

The T&G aims to protect all its members by improving pay and conditions of service and providing representation in grievance and disciplinary cases and support in all workplace health and safety issues.

The T&G also serves its members by providing a comprehensive package of benefits and services;

- Free representation for accident and industrial injury compensation
- Sick and pregnancy benefit
- Insurance
- Free legal advice and a free will service
- Compensation for accidents at work
- Home and contents insurance
- Travel club

For more details and/or an application form, contact Terry Tancock (263902) or email t.i.tancock@exeter.ac.uk

Produced by ExeterJoint Trade Union Committee

University of Exeter
Trade Unions

JOINING A UNION AT
UNIVERSITY OF EXETER

