Environment reps

Who can be an environment rep?

Any UCU member who is enthusiastic enough! You may be a UCU health and safety rep, a branch officer or departmental rep, or simply a UCU member keen to promote a green agenda in your workplace.

What can environment reps do?

Environmental reps can work in a similar way to other union reps by raising awareness of green issues in the workplace and making sure they are included in the negotiating/bargaining agenda. A main concern would be to agree a joint approach to 'greening the workplace', ideally formalised in a collective agreement and overseen by an employer/union committee that addresses environmental issues.

How do I become an environment rep?

You can contact your branch or local association secretary/president. If you are not sure how to make contact you can use our local contacts finder to contact your branch/local association. Alternatively you can email dbussell@ucu.org.uk for more information.
