

University of Sunderland Branch

- Do you believe that our educational curriculum should be more inclusive?
- Do you believe that a more inclusive curriculum is essential to addressing the attainment gap of students from Black and Minority Ethnic (BME) backgrounds?
- Do you want to debate / be informed about these issues?

If your answer to these questions is YES, then you are invited to attend a discussion hosted as part of the UCU Day of Action Against Workplace Racism

Decolonising Education

Wednesday 28th February
3-5 pm

University of Sunderland, St Peter's Campus
Prospect Building Room 009, SR6 0DD

Speakers:

Professor Uvanney Maylor
Professor of Education at the University of Bedfordshire

Professor Maylor's research interests include race, ethnicity, culture, educational equity, inclusion and social justice. She is particularly concerned about the impact of race and culture on educational practice/leadership and student and teacher experience, identities and outcomes.

Marsha Garratt
Project Manager, All in Youth Project

All in Youth Project is a voluntary organisation based in Middlesbrough that works with young people aged 11-25 to deliver culturally aware, fun and positive youth sessions and events for BME, Asylum seekers and Refugee young people so they can get involved and have their voices heard.

ALL ARE WELCOME!

Contact Professor Donna Chambers donna.chambers@sunderland.ac.uk if you are interested in hearing more about this event and in joining the UCU Northern regional BME network
